

The Hot Seat

The Mouth of the South Bronx interviews Ronald Gamble offensive coordinator of the NY Warriors Cadet team arguably the best cadet team in NYC possibly the nation.

The Mouth of the South Bronx: Good afternoon, you've had a major turn around thus far this season. What would you say are the top 3 reasons for the turn around.

Ronald Gamble: Me and my coaches are on the same page. My young talent from last year has matured and I recruited better this year.

TMotSB: Ok at the time of this interview you are 4-0 are you surprised?

RG: Not really.

TMotSB: So you anticipated being undefeated at this point in time. Well what about the defense only 6 points in 4 games. That's impressive. What's made them special?

RG: Defense is disciplined and solid at every spot. I also have to give credit to my defensive coach, he came up with a great scheme.

TMotSB: Ok do you think you are going to the Super Bowl?

RG: Our goal is to be undefeated. If us going undefeated culminates into us winning the chip, then yes I hope so.

TMotSB: Any national or regional aspirations?

RG: Yeah, national exposure is always great.

TMotSB: Any particular game u were looking forward to more than anyother this year? I heard about a on the field stare down between your cadets and the chief's cadets. Then you guys opened the season up against one another. Was that your favorite game so far?

RG: The situation in Long Island was all in good fun. We had them in our sights for the season.

TMotSB: Well thanks for your time and good luck on the season.

RG: No problem.
